Have you seen the Dragons?.... many of you have no doubt seen the signs of dragons in the skies, had visits from water dragons or have been called to connect with the Dragon energies around the planet. Many of you have no doubt been going through a 'stripping', where you know you can no longer be in the skin of last year, last month, last week. Such is the energy of the White Dragon who will gently come into your life with compassion and assist you in shedding the old. The White Dragon energy is now assisting all to really step into their heart and see what is really truth and what is illusion. As we have experienced the Dragon lines re-awakening and aligning, the White Dragon energy is very specific in its connections and is here to encode light direct from the Cosmos of our Heart. It moves through the planetary consciousness now, with full support of the essence of divine truth and love within all.

TEMPLE OF THE WHITE DRAGON” and so it shall be that the light of the White Dragon shall enter and all will return to their Sacred Temple, their light, their joy”.

On 22nd September the Mother called her light home. On 23rd September, 2012 within the time of the Equinox and through the golden fires of Lemuria, a pure vibration, known as the 'Temple of the White Dragon' entered the planet. With the blessings of pure love, direct from the sacred Cosmic Heart, the Heart of Creation herself, this light began to seed the remembrance of our 'heart song', the sacred sounds of light that have been waiting eons of time to be ignited, codes that have always existed within.

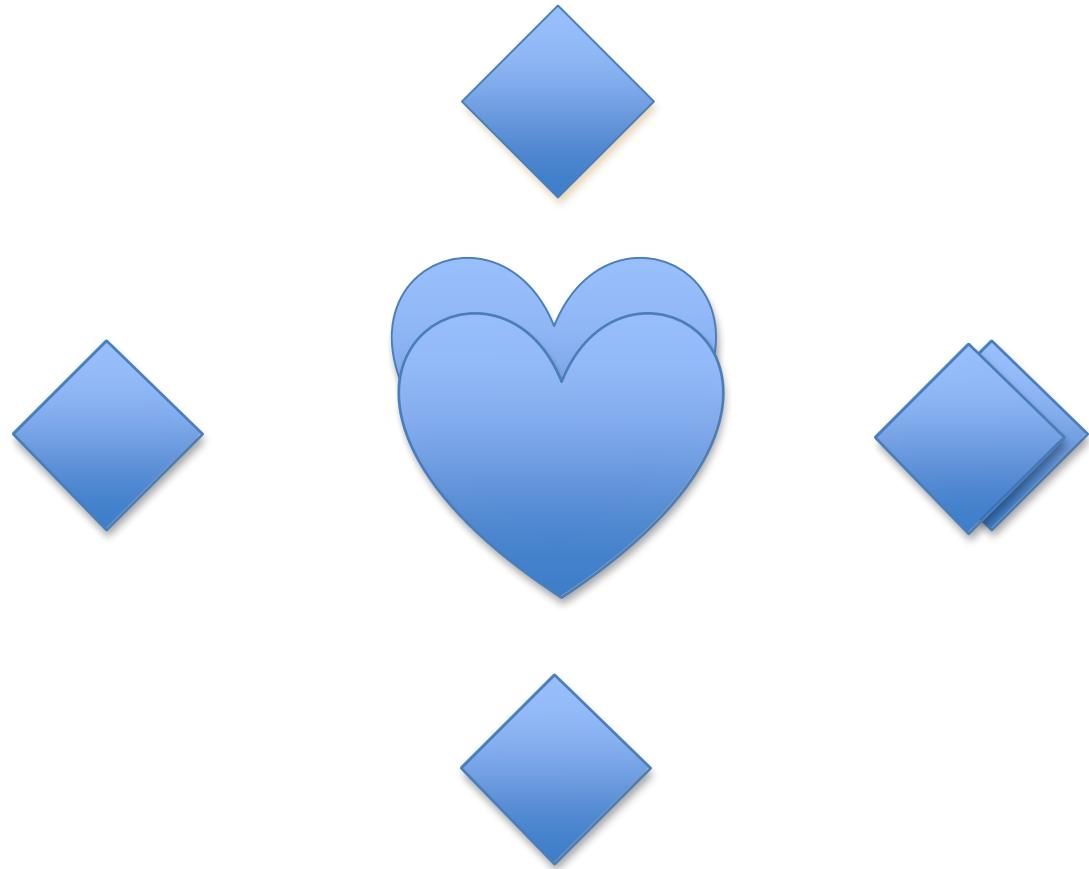

“As your cells awaken to this memory the flow of a new tide begins and opens like a young, fresh bud. The songs of your divine Temple that have been held buried deep within, awaiting the moment of its calling to bloom have come full circle. It is time to continue the journey you began in your awakened state so, so long ago. Welcome home”

“Light the golden fire within, draw on the pure love of the White Dragon, ignite the voice of illusion and set yourself free through your divine truth, through your Temple of Love”

Temple of the White Dragon

(in stillness – speak the phonetic words below (five times) and allow this multi-dimensional frequency to enter your heart through your original blueprint):

kayeena hi-; natoos emeera;
Loomeera; katoona ma-hi; juna
Loomeera, neeyata ho

Freedom from illusion is the gift of the Temple of the White Dragon...

the Temple of the White Dragon is a “Cosmic Grid of sacred sound and vibration in the form of Diamond Heart”, it is a multi-dimensional ‘song’ that entered through what we shall call the ‘Hierarchy of Heaven and of Earth within’ (within all), holding the energy of ‘five’ (23rd) and in a 5 year (2012), 5 comes through Mars (fire) energy, bringing the gift of change and freedom to all who would hear and see the light within. This Temple sings into the light of the five senses and draws all together into the power of the six, to move beyond and into the next several years beginning with 2013 (2 + 0 + 1 + 3 = 6) - drawing and activating within us the Temple of Heaven and Earth – individually understanding the 2 = balance; 0 = limitless, breath of Creation; 1 = union; 3 = sacred trinity, the all-seeing, all knowing = “There is balance and limitless potential in the union of the all knowing, all seeing truth that is held within”.

The power of six emanates with the ‘sixth sense’ and bringing a planetary shift of this vibration to allow all to begin to see the truth of who they are. 2013 is about ‘coming to centre’, where the wheel that has been in motion comes full circle and celebrates the union of each of its twelve points that bring all into the epicenter of their being – their HEART (the thirteenth element/light/sound).

The White Dragon allows us, if we choose, to free ourselves from illusion that has encased us and to step into the truth that we are already our own Temple and within that is limitless potential awaiting to be recognized with compassion, truth, wisdom, kindness, generosity of spirit and love (the six points in Diamond Heart Blueprint/Template above). Listen to the sacred sounds within your heart and fly!

With the past events in New York: “As the final days of 2012 close, know that the ‘flame of freedom’ shall enter profoundly within. You have seen in the past few days the stripping away of old frames. “The Lady of Liberty (Statue of Liberty) is calling for a change in position, so that the entire planet can once again see Freedom burn brightly as once was within all hearts in the times of the Ancient Ones. Enter the strength of your hearts as the planet awakens to this calling and remember the sense of peace that comes with such freedom, hold it strong to your hearts and let all be as it is to be, in LOVE”.

On the Obama Re-election: “As has been expressed by the people then so it shall be. There is a great awakening occurring, you shall see such within the hearts. More will be revealed around the energies of the “Lady and the Man” that have been elected to lead, to learn, to teach, to bring much light to the planetary consciousness. All is as it should be, their Souls are divinely guided – trust!”

May the light of the suns and moons bless you and may your heart always show you the gentle spirit of love that you are.

Blessings, Victoria & David
